Do you know the best way to win a game? When you have a perfect sound card you are just one step away from winning. Auzentech Xplosion offers you the possibility to customize the behaviour of your sound card to reach the best possible sound quality. Auzentech Xplosion is the sound card "king", on which all other sound cards are based. Sometimes when you play a game, it is difficult to hear the sound. The sound may not be as loud as you would like it to be. You may have a game volume set very high, but not be able to hear it in a crowded room. Auzentech Xplosion offers you the possibility to adjust the sound volume. Many times the game sound is a bit distorted or unclear. Auzentech Xplosion is the sound card that has been designed for you. You can adjust the sound effects and the sound quality to reach the best sound possible in your game. When playing a game, you may not hear the enemies or the sounds from the game. Auzentech Xplosion has a built-in equalizer which allows you to adjust the sound quality of the game. You want to use a game's sound cards with another sound card, but it will not work, due to conflicting software. Auzentech Xplosion's game sharing mode will allow you to use another sound card. Simply turn off the power, connect the other card, turn it on again and you are ready to go. You can use multiple sound cards. Some games may not work properly, due to incompatibilities with other software. Auzentech Xplosion allows you to switch between different sound cards and allows you to share your sound card with a friend. You can set different profiles for your sound cards. If you are playing a game and you hear another sound, like the ticking of the clock, your game sound card may be muted. To avoid this situation, you can set the sound card to "exclusive" mode. Now only your sound card will play and others will be muted. With "exclusive" mode on, you can even eliminate some sounds from being heard. A few games only support 32 bit sound cards, but a 64 bit sound card will run any game flawlessly. The 64 bit sound card has more memory, and it allows you to have better sound
