This is a must play for all otome game fans. Fall In Love: My Billionaire Boss is available for FREE on Google Play and Apple App Store right now! Aurora's story. From the moment Aurora met Marco I knew I had to work on her. It's as simple as that, even though I'm not a maid. I'm a con artist, and if I can get what I want, I have no problem grabbing it from your hand. You're a billionaire and I'm a maid at your beck and call. All you have to do is walk into my room and order me around. Those soft lips, those perfect breasts, that sweet little ass that just drives me wild. I'm so embarrassed, I bet you're about to ask if you can eat me out. That's fine, you can do whatever you want. We're not in public here, so nobody can see us. You don't have to think twice, just pick up the phone and call me. I'm always here to help you. -'Be my cute little maid' =====

Hi Aurora. I'm Marco, your boss. I met you when you moved to the mansion where I live. I was there in a legal document until you and your mother were out of the house, so I came to live here. For the time being, you're stuck with me, so now you have to bear with me and try to be happy. This place is big enough for the two of us. That's why I'm always alone. The places where women would hang out are too noisy for someone like me. I'm also very lucky, I have a big house that has lots of space where you can keep that girlfriend of yours and many things that you can do during the day. What's more, I'm a billionaire, so there's no doubt that I can afford to get you what you want, from clothes to a couple new friends.

From this point forward you play as Thorgrim 'Blood on their tongues', a Viking warrior who travels with a two men's company in search of aid from the king of Sweden. Travel across the top-down world where harsh landscapes, weather and bizarre creatures await you. Are you brave enough to find the strength to continue on this journey? Get your "Kobold Killer" through the dark forest with DangerHandler, play it all by yourself or with your friends and gain access to exclusive content in this first chapter of the 'Immortal Vikings' series. The Viking series focuses on cooperation and teamwork. Will you be the one to protect your fellow Vikings on the lonely road? Features: Action-RPG based on the South-Eastern part of Great Britain (HEXENJÄGÄN, THORGRIM and THORGRIM 2 also come from here), a land full of mystery and creatures. Travel in this free-roaming world with its stylistic depiction of the British landscape, as well as its realistic and in-depth character models with lush and detailed vegetation. Each of the 23 levels of the campaign offers unique challenges and multiple ways to fight your enemies. Use your skills, tools, and weapons, and continue your journey on the island! At the beginning of the journey you will find a good weapon and armor for your strong Viking hero, and he will always be prepared when enemies surround him. Part of the new campaign by Odin Games is the exclusive "Kobold Killer" gameplay, a mini-game where two warriors team up to defeat a bizarre creature. In this chapter, you will have the opportunity to work together with two Vikings by using the shared skills, tools and items. Unique Skills and Weapons for your Heroes: Unlike other RPGs, where you have to grind for hours to upgrade your skills, in Valhalla Hills you can quickly learn or upgrade any skill with just a few training points. Cooks: San Diego's recipe for success Cape Codder in Over-the-Rhine in Cincinnati, Wandering Airstream in University Heights in Cleveland, Rhinegeist in Columbus and Ovenly in Detroit are only some of the successful food truck programs being run by Detroiters. Francisco Alvarado and Kyle Visser will share their secrets behind some of the better-known food trucks in the Midwest after sharing with other Food Network stars at Nourish Fest in Detroit last month. Visser and Alvarado are on a mission to show that food truck owners can build a profitable and successful business. Since 2008, Visser and Alvarado have cooked and consulted for 17 of the top 50 food trucks in the country. They each shared what they have learned in their own programs, which are based on the principles of "food trucks as incubators," mobile business consulting, marketing and other key considerations. The programs are designed to help food truck owners identify their strengths and weaknesses and how to maximize their business's potential for success. "When we share everything we learned from all the truck owners, we can help them succeed with their food truck businesses,” Visser said. “So much of this whole food truck thing is a business plan, but when you’re talking to the food truck owners on a one-to-one basis, the way they have their business is what makes them successful.” Alvarado, who has operated the Cape Codder food truck in Over-the-Rhine in Cincinnati for 10 years, said food trucks are flourishing thanks to their allure as mobile businesses. “They cater to all people,” Alvarado said. “Mobile entrepreneurs have used food trucks to get their message out to so many people.” And they tend to be a very lucrative option for anyone looking to start a business. “They’re phenomenally successful,” Alvarado said. “They’ve shared how much of their earnings they’ve realized in return for the fees that they charge. People are making tons of money.” Cape Codder was the second longest-operating food truck in Cincinnati. However, despite the truck being known for its crowd-pleasing fare and its Cincy charm, much of the original business plan was focused on
